

Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting alimdi.net. We collect and process all your personal data in accordance with the provisions of data protection law. Please find below our regulations regarding the nature, extent and purpose of the collection and use of personal data.

Data Transmission and Storage for Statistical Purposes

For technical reasons your web browser automatically transmits data to our web server each time you visit our website. Among other things, this includes the date and time as well as the duration of your visit, accessed file(s), browser type and version, operating system, referrer URL (the web page linking to our site), the computer's host name (IP address), notification of successful retrieval, the amount of transferred data.

These data are stored separately from other data, and it is impossible for us to assign them to a specific person. Alimdi uses such data for statistical purposes only, and they are deleted immediately after anonymized evaluation.

Use of Personal Data

Personal information such as your first and last name, address, e-mail, phone number, etc. is only collected by alimdi if you voluntarily provide it in the course of registration or transactions on our website. Alimdi stores these data for use of the image database, the acquisition of user rights to the images on offer, and in order to invoice you for services.

If you use our website contact forms, you need to provide us with a valid e-mail address or phone number as well as your name in order for us to process your inquiry. Any additional information is optional and serves only to make it easier for us to contact you.

Please note that for technical reasons we cannot, at present, provide secure (encrypted) transmission of your message from your browser to our contact form. For your own safety, we recommend sending confidential messages by regular mail.

For credit card payments you need to provide additional information about your card. This information is not stored by alimdi, but by a payment service provider that protects these data from misuse in keeping with the safety regulations of credit card organizations. Credit card information is only used for one single transaction and will not be stored, therefore the data need to be entered again for each future transaction.

For advertising purposes and in order to provide web services tailored to user requirements, we create anonymized user profiles. You have the right to object to this use of your data.

Disclosure of Personal Information

Your personal information will only be passed on to third parties or otherwise disclosed if required for processing or billing purposes.

Use of Cookies

In order to increase the functionality of our website and to offer a user-friendly and comfortable interface, we use so-called "cookies". Alimdi depends on cookies to offer you certain features such as welcoming you by name, lightbox, shopping cart, and other convenient features.

While many cookies are deleted from your hard drive immediately after closing your browser, some remain stored on your computer's hard drive and enable automatic recognition of your computer on your next visit to alimdi.

You have the option to prevent storage of cookies on your computer by modifying your browser settings. However, this means that the use of some features on our website will be significantly restricted or they might even be unavailable to you.

Data Security

Alimdi uses an SSL encryption protocol to transmit your personal information on the Internet. Suitable technical and organizational measures protect our website and additional technical systems against any unauthorized access. Personal information and our image database can only be accessed after entering a password.

Our website can contain links to other websites. Alimdi has no influence on data protection policies or practises of third-party content providers and therefore cannot assume liability for them.

Right to Information

As a user of our website you are entitled to free information about all personal information stored with us, and you have the right to request that personal data be corrected, blocked or deleted. For this purpose please contact: info@alimdi.net
